

Succeed In CMS's Direct Contracting Model

Leverage real-time notifications for proactive patient engagement and care interventions

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' (CMS) Direct Contracting Model is a voluntary payment model that offers participants increased risk options and the ability to receive capitation payments. The model is an integral component of CMS's strategy to redesign primary care as a platform to drive reductions in costs, while allowing participants to drive consistent revenue, improve patient outcomes, and lower global utilization and costs.

HOW PATIENTPING HELPS

PatientPing is the nation's largest care collaboration platform that reduces the cost of healthcare by connecting providers to seamlessly coordinate patient care. PatientPing's real-time notifications and interactive performance dashboards help support hospitals, health systems, physician organizations, and ACOs succeed under value-based care initiatives and risk-based contracts.

USE PATIENTPING TO:

- + Ensure timely post-discharge follow ups to support transitional care management (TCM) workflows and engagement for preventative services
- + Power strategies and care team workflows to minimize avoidable hospital and post-acute utilization and potential readmissions
- + Enable rapid post-discharge follow ups to support beneficiary engagement strategies for increasing voluntary alignment and beneficiary retention
